Northern Spark

June 11, 2016

Welcome to Northern Spark—an all-night arts festival that lights up Minneapolis on the second Saturday of June.

Northern Spark is about connecting and mobilizing artists and communities around big ideas. This year and for the following 364 days until festival night on June 10, 2017, we're doing something big—exploring the interconnected, long-term consequences of climate change through art. Why? After the 2014 festival was nearly drowned out, we began thinking about climate instability in a very direct way. We looked to the many artists whose work engages climate issues in beautiful and daring ways. Knowing that we need facts to make good decisions, but that stories and culture motivate action, Climate Chaos | Climate Rising is a platform to turn a sense of overwhelm into concrete actions anchored in a realistic and hopeful map for the future.

Tonight and throughout the coming year you'll find art provides space for questions, contemplation and inspiration that relate to five broad effects of climate change.

Move. Watch 114 dancers make movements with resilience for 8 hours. Follow a climate refugee journey.

Nourish. Barter for an ice pop from the future. Drink a cup of dandelion tea at dawn.

Perceive. Feel glaciers calving. Record your backyard perceptions in the mobile phenology trailer. Listen to researchers and respond with your body.

Interconnect. Sit and share with others breaking fast for Ramadan. Discover a new relationship between railroads and oil.

Act. Dig for fossil currency and decide where to leave it. Commit to a personal energy consultation of theatrical persuasion.

As we move throughout the next year from chaos to rising, look for more opportunities to connect, such as talks, picnics, a book club, field trips, and more. Stay connected at northernspark.org. Sign up for our newsletter, help out with a donation, or do what you can to add your support to the growing community that makes Northern Spark happen.

Sarah Peters, Associate Director

Think Tank: Christine Baeumler, Jane Marsching, and Marina Zurkow

Advisory Board: Nora Bateman; Jessica Cherry; Max Liboiron; Sonali P. McDermid, Ph.D.; Morgan Rider; Howard Silverman; Wen Stephenson

What's Happening?

Plan your night using these tools or just wander and discover!

Mobile Website

northernspark.org is mobile ready and holds all the information you need to plan your adventure—project listings, maps, a schedule of timed events, and more. The My Night feature lets you customize a list of projects you want to see, including time and locations.

Look For The Red Flags!

To find a project at a festival venue, look for tall signs with red flags and the Northern Spark icon.

Social Media

Connect with us for the latest news about #nspk16:

facebook.com/NorthernSparkMN

Instagram: @northernlights.mn

Twitter: @Northern_Spark

Information Hubs

Each festival zone has a Northern Spark Information Station. Got questions? Stop by and chat with a friendly volunteer. Information Stations have first-aid supplies, bike pumps, merchandise for sale, and night-of-festival updates.

Accessibility

Some projects are in unconventional spaces and may not have ADA access. Projects identified with a wheelchair symbol are ADA accessible. All festival venues are ADA accessible.

Weather

Northern Spark happens rain or (star) shine! Visit northernspark.org for night-of rain changes.

Getting Around

Travel to the festival by bike, bus, or foot.

Metro Transit

Ride Metro Transit free to Northern Spark! Download a free pass at northernspark.org/metrotransit.

PLEASE NOTE: Only the LRT Green Line service runs 24 hours. LRT Blue Line and bus routes end at varying times. Regular fares apply.
